HOW TO TELL WILD ANIMALS

'How to tell wild animals' is a humorous poem written by 'CAROLYN WELLS'. This was a poem to correctly identify the wild animals.

The poem tells us that to identify Asian Lion you should notice his large tawny body and his roaring. For a Bengal tiger you should notice if he eats you. Tiger is a Royal animal. A leopard will leap and leap again to attack on you. Similarly other animals like chameleon, hyena, crocodile, bear, etc will be identified by you.

This is funny because it is very unique rule to identify animals if they eat you. This poem shows the actions and looks of different animals and their way to get their prey. The poet describes beautifully the difference in wild animals.
