Value of Games

Games and sports are very necessary for healthy life. After the monotony of the day's hard work we get fresh if we play in the evening.

Games are important part of education sound to mind only lives in sound body. Importance of healthy life could be very well understood by this proverb: "He who has health, has hope and he who has hope has everything."

Study and sports should be blended in suitable proportion. Schools should not develop only mind but also body both are essential for wholesome personality. Apart from keeping body physically fit duty of loyalty should also be inculcated. Game & sports develop good qualities. Game and sports
