(ii) The Importance of Trees

Trees play a very significant role in our life. Without trees, life on earth cannot be survived. It gives us oxygen which is the reason we are living. Also, it takes carbon dioxide present in the atmosphere which is caused by human beings and animals. They also provide shade to us. Its fruits are enjoyed by the human beings. The leaves are used to make many kinds of medicines. They provide shelter to the birds. Today, the population is increasing day-by-day and because of this reason, the humans started cutting the trees for making their own residents. Also, with increasing population, the rate of unemployment is rising. So, for this, the people cut the trees in the forest and make industries and factories for their own benefits. Deforestation is increasing continuously which leads to many types of problems like soil erosion because the roots of the trees hold the soil & if there will no tree left, the life on the earth will soon come to an end. From the above, we can conclude that trees are the important part of our lives and we should take care of them and plant more and more trees. They give us everything but not take anything in return.

Dear friend Lalit,

I am fine here. I hope you are also fine these. Two weeks back, I received your letter. This year's summer vacation was the best vacation for me ever. I utilized it very properly. I joined swimming classes which were organised weekly on sundays. I also joined kathak classes as I am very fond of doing dance. As you know, I have a interest in cricket also, so I daily practiced it.

This is how, I utilized my summer vacation. Lots of love to you and your family. See you soon.

Yours lovingly,
Sunil
