To,
The Editor
The Hindu,

Subject :- Increase in road accidents, rash driving.
Respected Sir/Mam,

Through the column of your esteemed newspaper, The Hindu, I want to grab your attention towards the increase in the rate of road accidents, rash driving in whole city. Road accidents have become a common topic in all conversations, everyday millions of accidents have taken place all over the country. Young generation rash driving leads to road accidents in major amount. Not only this causes a damage to them but also damages other people lives.

प्रश्न क्र.

So, I request you to publish an article in your renowned newspaper concerning this issue. Some of the ways to reduce this can be that people must wear helmets during driving, four-wheeler passengers must use seat-belt. There should be rule on speed limit on the busy roads. People must follow signals and those who break rules should be punished with strictly.

Thanking you,
Yours sincerely
XYZ

to him amount of refund was less important than the fact that landlords had to give some part of their money and along with it some part of their prestige too. British landlords had to give estates to the indigo farmers and by doing this they are also giving them their prestige as they lost the battle of Champaran and sharecropping was disappeared from Champaran for ever. Now they can't rule over peasants' land and they have to leave their lands although with 25% refund.

(ii) The poem 'My Mother at sixty six' gives us an idea of the mental state of people who have become old. Poet through her mother wants to show the readers that her mother has gone old, now she is dependent on her children. She feels an emotional ache of her mother approaching end. Her mother is dozing with ~~an~~ open mouth and looking like a corpse. But she can't do anything as life and death are truths of our life. She compares her mother with late winter's moon which is dull, dim and loses all its brightness like her mother who has become pale and frail.

She only can bring optimism in her mother and in herself by providing a smiling face in front of her ~~for~~ mother.

This poem tells us that old age
